

VETERANS RESOURCE GUIDE

This is intended to be a guide to resources that are available to Military Veterans who are currently incarcerated and planning for release to the community.

Incarcerated Veterans with pending case(s) can make use of this guide by contacting their legal representation to check their eligibility for entry into Veterans Court. Veterans Court also offers a mentor program that can help incarcerated Veterans by building a peer support system that can follow them through the entirety of their movement through the Justice System.

Mentors communicate and work with Veterans by providing them support, referrals to resources and help navigating the Criminal Justice system.

Veterans who are eligible under DOC standards will receive reentry services from their institution's DOC Counselor, Centurion Reentry Representative, and Delaware Center for Homeless Veterans. The key to successful reentry is self-identifying your needs, communicating, and working with your DOC Counselor as soon as possible.

The earlier you begin your reentry planning the easier transitioning into the community becomes.
